

Something

Teacher tells us to root ourselves in our world
as if we are part of a team—
no small part
for any of us.
Failings?
Brush them aside—
or rather commit them
to a compost heap
where they can grow,
into something strong,
something better,
something fearless.

Barbara Lyghtel Rohrer

As published in Bluestone Review, Bluefield University, Bluefield, VA, 2022.